

Trivia of the Week: "How is insulation rated or measured?" A. R Value B. X Value C. F Value D. C Value
(See answer below)

Project: Hank Aaron Academy Additions & Modifications

Week Ending: March 14, 2025

THIS WEEK:

- Poured slab in the north end area
- Backfilling stage area
- Completed 90% of plumbing rough-in work in the cafeteria
- Continue electrical rough-in work in the cafeteria
- Begin sprinkler reinstall in the cafeteria
- Completed CMU walls in the kitchen
- Continue underground plumbing work

Continuing underground plumbing

Poured concrete slab

CMU wall completed in kitchen (L)

CMU wall completed in kitchen (R)

NEXT WEEK – March 17 - March 21

- Continue to prep and pour gymnasium slab
- Begin exterior CMU
- Start metal stud framing in cafeteria
- Continue underground plumbing
- Ongoing electrical and plumbing rough-in work in cafeteria

Answer: A. R Value

Insulation rating values are given an R then a number, for example R11 or R15, the higher the number the more effective the insulation

SCHEDULED DATE OF SUBSTANTIAL COMPLETION

- December 1, 2025

PREPARED BY:

Karee Shaw, Carroll Daniel Construction Co.

